Candidate Disclosures

The Financial Disclosure Law, Hawai'i Revised Statutes § 84-17, requires candidates running for state elective offices to file a Disclosure of Financial Interests with the Hawai'i State Ethics Commission ("Commission").

Financial disclosures help to ensure governmental accountability and transparency by identifying financial interests that may conflict with a state official's duties and responsibilities to the public.

Who is Required to File?

Candidates for governor, lieutenant governor, State Senate, State House of Representatives, Office of Hawaiian Affairs trustee, and state constitutional convention delegates.

You must file a candidate disclosure, even if you have already filed a regular financial disclosure this year based on your current state position.

Filing Deadlines

Candidate disclosures shall be filed no later than 10 days after the Office of Elections' nomination filing deadline. In an election year, the filing deadlines are posted on the Commission's website at <http://ethics.hawaii.gov>.

Financial Interests to be Reported

Filers are required to report certain types of financial interests, such as income; business ownership; stocks, bonds, and mutual funds; officer or director positions in for-profit or non-profit business; real property; loans; names of clients assisted or represented before state agencies; and creditor interests in an insolvent business.

Candidates are required to report their own financial interests (including jointly held assets). They are not required to report financial interests that are owned solely by a spouse or dependent child.

Public Records

Candidate disclosures are designated as public records, and are posted on the Commission's website at <http://ethics.hawaii.gov>.

Penalties

Candidates who fail to file a disclosure by the statutory deadline shall be assessed a $50 late penalty. In addition, the Commission may assess additional administrative fines and post a list of candidates who have failed to file a disclosure as required by law.

Disclosure Period:

Candidates must report all financial interests held or sold between January 1 of the preceding calendar year and the date of filing.

FAQs

Candidate Disclosures

- Q: I am running for state elective office this year. I already filed a regular financial disclosure earlier this year based on my state position. Do I need to file a separate Candidate Disclosure?
- A: Yes. All candidates for state elective office are required to file a Candidate Disclosure, even if the person has already filed a regular financial disclosure form based on his or her position as a state legislator, state employee, or state board member. State candidates are only required to disclose their own financial interests (and not their spouse's or dependent child's interests).

Extensions of Time to File

- Q: Can I request an extension of time to file my candidate disclosure?
- A: No. By law, candidate disclosures must be filed no later than 10 days after the deadline to file nomination papers with the Office of Elections. This is to ensure that voters have an opportunity to review information prior to casting their ballots.

Filing Confirmation

- Q: I tried submitting my disclosure on-line, but I did not receive an email confirmation. What should I do?
- A: Check your junk mail folder and adjust your junk email/spam filter. If you do not receive a confirmation, please contact the Commission immediately to make sure that your disclosure was filed.

Update Your Email Address

- Q: I changed my email address since the last time I filed a disclosure. What do I need to do?
- A: The email address that you originally used to create your account serves as your log-in and contact information for all email notifications and reminders sent by the Commission. If you change your email address, please contact the Commission to update your account.

Amending a Disclosure

- Q: I forgot to report a financial interest on my disclosure. What should I do?
- A: If you omitted items on your disclosure or need to make corrections, file an amended disclosure as soon as possible.
